PROGRAM: SPREAD YOUR WINTER HEATING OIL EXPENSE OVER 12 EQUAL PAYMENTS

If you are a current customer, our records will help determine the total gallons you normally use each heating season. If you are a new customer, using your previous fuel use history and/or our calculations we can help you determine a good estimate of gallons used.

Print this form then call us for the current estimated per gallon price to use and for assistance in calculating your estimated gallon use.

Using those figures, complete and sign this form and return it to us. Your budget payments will begin in June and continue through May. Budget payments are due in full on the 10th of each month.

Calculate your monthly budget payments

Contract Limitations. Contract does not guarantee price per gallon or the number of gallons you will use. It is an agreement to help spread your estimated heating costs over more months, avoiding having to pay for your full delivery each month during the coldest part of winter, etc. You decide how many gallons to contract. Valid while supplies last! (continued on page 2)

Fuel Consumption. The Customer determines the amount of gallons he/she would like to purchase for the upcoming heating season based on the number of gallons normally purchased for the contract period, he/she will be billed at the prevailing daily market price for any overage. In the event of overpayment, the customer can apply the dollar amount toward the next heating season at the end of the contract period.

Fuel Price. The Customer's fuel price will be the prevailing daily market price at the time of each delivery.

Payment Schedule. Customers with past due balances are not eligible for the program until the balance is paid in full. The total cost for fuel purchased will be divided into twelve equal installment payments due in full on the 10th of each month from June thru May. Current credit terms for the Customer account are in effect. Payment must be received on/before the due date each month. Buy Rite Oil Co. holds the right to terminate this agreement if the Customer's account is delinquent during the program period. (Budget amount may be changed with a previous notification by Buy Rite Oil Co. based on increased consumption due to weather conditions).
